2013-2014 SCHOOL YEAR READING LOG

Reading is an Investment!

The Vermont State Treasurer's Office is pleased to bring you a program for elementary-age children that promotes literacy and aims to teach Vermont youth about money and basic financial concepts.

Complete your reading log and send it in. You could be one of twenty students who will receive a $250 college savings account!

Thank you to these program supporters!

Deadline to return completed log is MARCH 15, 2014!

After all 20 squares have been crossed out or colored, you have read the required number of minutes. Now, mail this reading log to the State Treasurer's Office!

Open Reading

Open reading means reading any book you would like to read. You may have someone read to you or you may read to yourself. Keep track of your reading time by coloring in one of the "Open" boxes on the left for every 20 minutes of reading.

One Box = 20 Minutes

Eligibility Requirements

- Participants must be elementary-age in Kindergarten through Grade 6, reside in Vermont, and must meet the program's reading requirements and deadline.
- Children who are eligible for the college savings account drawing may win only one prize per year. All prizes will be in the form of a $250 Vermont Higher Education Investment Plan account, Vermont's official 529 college savings plan.
- Participants are responsible for any costs they incur in fulfilling the requirements of this program.

Reading Requirements

Reading Books from the Money Reading List

You must read three books from the recommended money reading list and complete the free reading requirements in order to enter the drawing for the college savings plan account. When you finish a book from the recommended list, color in a "Money" square on the left and write the name of the book below. You can get a copy of the money reading list from your school library or online at www.MoneyEd.Vermont.gov. If your school library is participating in the program and has registered with the Treasurer's Office, three of the books from the reading list were donated to the library at the start of the school year. Some of Vermont's public libraries also are participating. Visit the program web page to see which libraries are in the program.
