

VERMONT PUBLIC RADIO AND YOU

Midday Newscast: September 19, 2007

Wednesday September 19, 2007

Mitch Wertlieb

Colchester, VT

Vermont state Treasurer Jeb Spaulding has joined an effort that would force companies to disclose the financial risks they face from global climate change; Vermonters will be able to sign up for a new state-sponsored health insurance plan in less than two weeks; a new disclosure is putting more pressure on the Public Service Board to continue investigating phone companies' roles in passing customer information to the federal government; the state prison in Springfield has been locked down today.

Flash Audio

http://www.vpr.net/flash/audio_player/audio_player.php?id=22502

Mp3 Download

http://www.vpr.net/audio_download.php?id=22502